TUCUMCARI — NAMED FROM THE MOUNTAIN TOCOM-KARI

Whether fiction or fact, the accepted story is that the mountain (which you see from your doorstep) . . . is named for Kari, the daughter of an Indian Chief, and her lover Tocom.
In memory of their love, Wautonomah, her father, named the mountain Tocom-Kari. Later it was changed to Tucumcari — for the town of the present day.
